Caleb – A brief history

- Established in 1994 by Paul Ashford:
 - Chemist by training (University of Bristol)
 - 15 years experience with BP Chemicals
 - Product/Process Dev., Technology Licensing & Business Mgt.
- Primarily staffed by professionals from the chemical & downstream industries
- Business, technical and regulatory expertise
- Work at the stakeholder interface as facilitators, mediators and practitioners

We are neither industry advocates nor government agents!!

Our objectives.....

- To promote a better understanding of chemical hazards and risks
- To promote a balanced response from regulators and industry
- To promote co-operation between all stakeholders
- To stimulate novel policy approaches

Caleb's strengths for REACH are in mediation, management and relationships with regulators

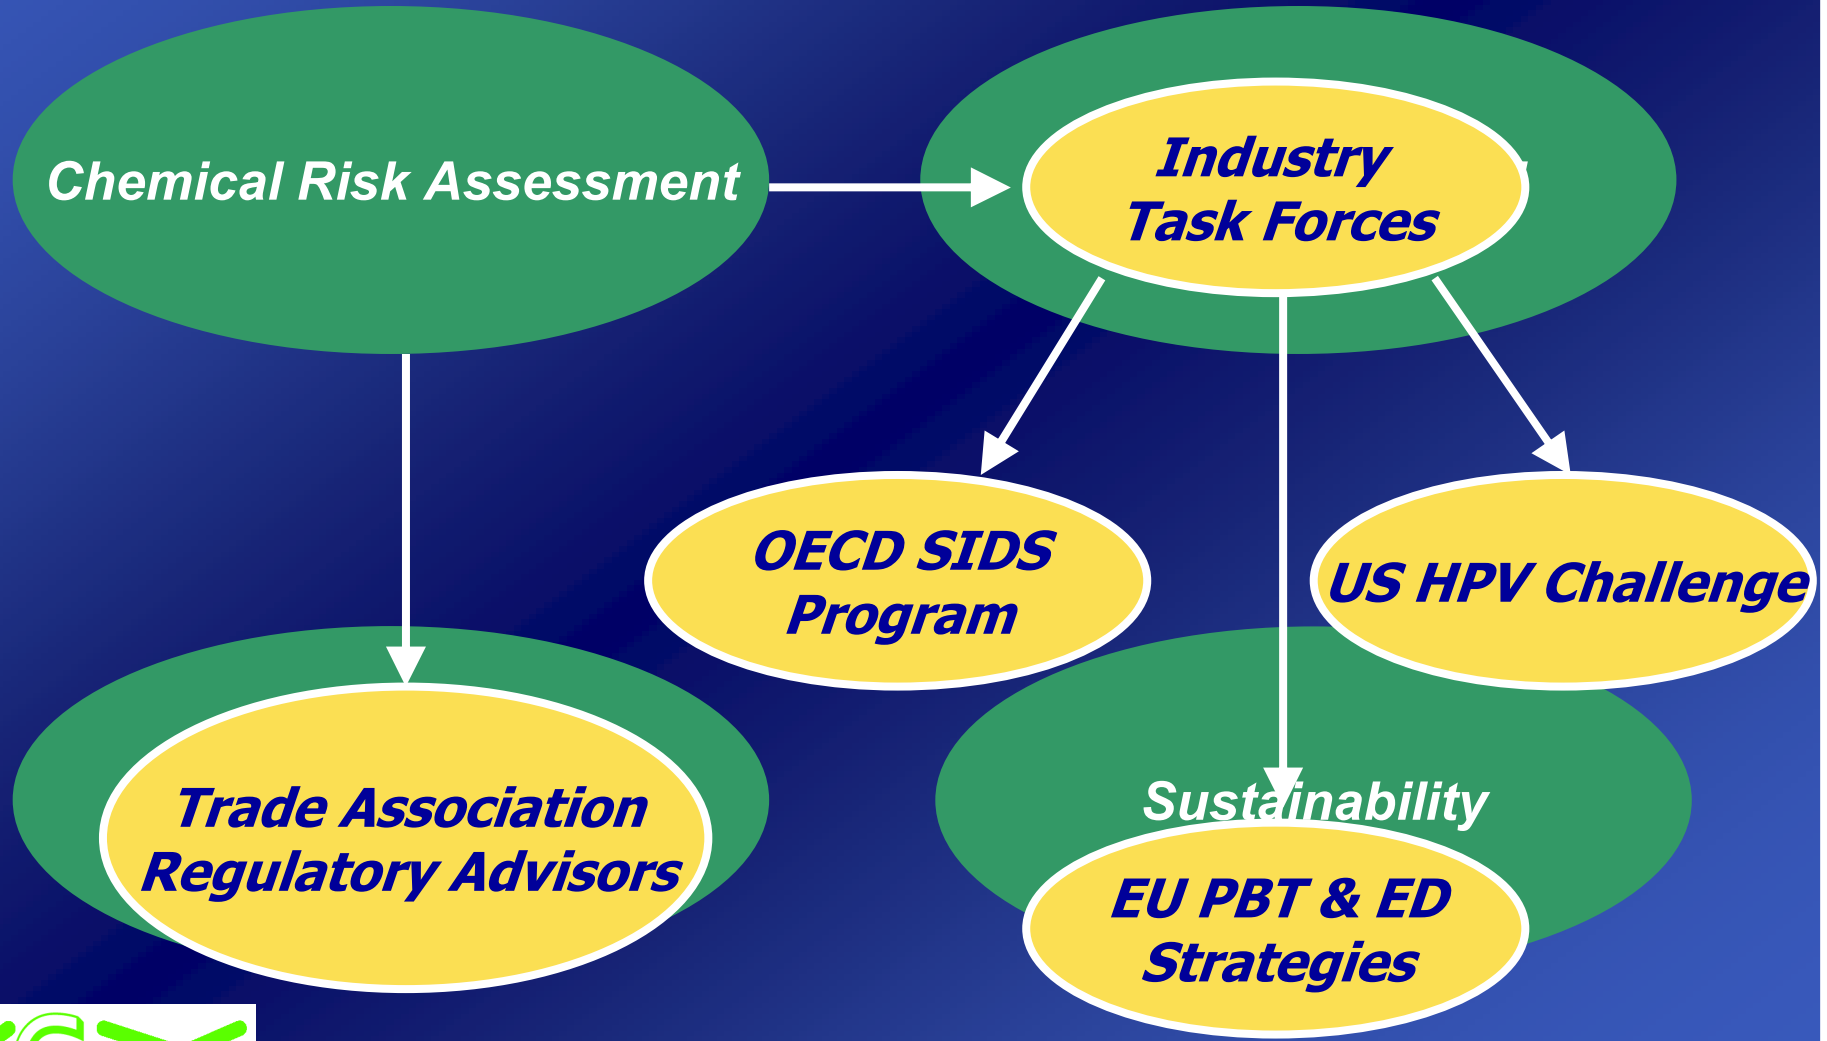

Our methods.....

- To adopt an ‘evidence-based’ approach
- To engage separately or collectively with all stakeholders
- To challenge the stereotypes
- To educate where necessary, but also to learn and pass on the benefits
- To identify common ground and build on it
